the one that gave life meaning,
the one that never stopped believing,
may your grace never end....
we will not forget your face,
we will remember your amazing grace.
we will remember you,
whenever the sun shines and the sky is blue.
you brought so much life to this town,
always looking up never looking down.
your love to your friends,
your presence which never ends,
will let you shine through,
we will remember you.

we are marshfield!

the eagle soars on the wind, majestic, powerful, and free. with each day he rises to new challenges and dares the impossible. likewise your time has come to soar, to rise to new heights, to dare to achieve and to provide for our community. you spent four incredible years at our school. you've been challenged to check your attitude, to work together, to value respect and responsibility, and to pursue your maximum potential. it is now your time to soar, to pursue great works, to attempt the impossible, and to achieve greatness.

class of 2009, we are proud of you!

{dare to soar}

The Rams Summer Leadership Summit provides a great setting to develop crucial leadership and self-awareness skills and helps students reach their goals and maximum potential. The Summit helps create effective problem solvers, team players, effective communicators, visionary planners, skilled organizers and solid leaders. Highlights included a guest motivational speaker, continental breakfast, barbecue lunch, a night boat/dance cruise out of Plymouth Harbor and much camaraderie.

{meet·ing on the moun·tain}

1. we thought it would be a hill but it was a MOUNTAIN. just like high school, we thought it would be a breeze but it was actually very challenging. everyone took different routes; some walked right up and others struggled to reach the top. we all eventually found our way, so of course we needed to have a meeting!

{canice ahearn}

{hal·lo·ween}

1. the evening of october 31; the eve of all saints' day; allhallows eve: observed esp. by children in costumes who solicit treats, often by threatening minor pranks.

2. an annual excuse for kids to dress like quailman, the incredible hulk, superman, or anything else they can think up and actually get away with it.

{pride week}

1. a week of pride-based competitions between the freshmen, sophomore, junior, and senior classes including deck the halls, the penny wars, and the class officer dance-off.

2. the most stressful week of the year for every class officer, but the only week that you'll ever see principal keuther kiss a fish or kevin hufnagle dance hip hop.

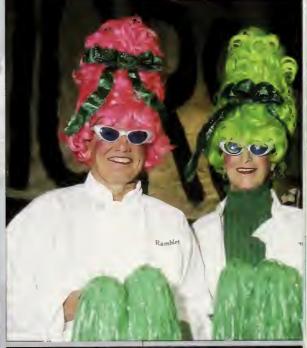

{"our town" home com ing}

homecoming was an opportunity for my grade to come together and celebrate our unity as we selected a court of ten terrific representatives of the class of 2009 spirit. I am incredibly honored to have been crowned the king and hope that in the future all of us can have another "night to remember". --{kevin hufnagle}

{a black tie af.fair}

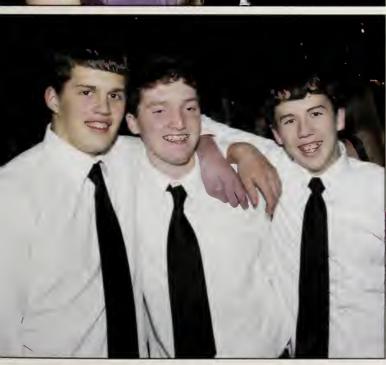

{pow-der-puff}

n an

1. a reference to the division of an otherwise male dominated sport reserved for females 2. powderpuff football is an annual event in which high school girls separate by class for a fierce game of football, the teams are coached by the teachers, what is supposed to be an innocent flag football game always ends up as rough tackle football, there are penalties against unnecessary roughness, but do you think that will stop them? we don't think so either.

1. a form of football played between two teams in which the ball may be advanced by kicking or by bouncing it off any part of the body but the arms and hands, except in the case of the goalkeepers, who may use their hands to catch, carry, throw, or stop the ball.

2. dribble, pass, shoot, save! a sport where fatigue is not an option. it's 90 minutes of sweat, pain, and exhaustion. it's eleven players working together as one unit in an effort to get the ball in back of the opposite net and defying the opposing team from scoring. seen as a simple game of kick ball to the common bystander, but felt as an overwhelming passion to the athlete.

{taryn doherty}

{swim}

1. to move in water by movements of the limbs, fins, tail, etc.

2. n. a sport where you can run a mile in under four minutes, but can't finish one lap in the pool. A sport that makes you wonder why you do it after you repeat your twentieth 50, but quickly reminds you why you achieve your personal best at a meet. A sport that requires you to push yourself when you feel like you are going to die and keeps you permanently reeking of chlorine. a sport that does not require hand-eye coordination, but does require strength, dedication, and heart. Creates the closest bonds to the kindest and coolest people you will ever meet in your life. {emily karr}

{gym·nas·tics}

1.physical exercises designed to develop and display strength, balance, and agility, especially those performed on or with specialized apparatus.

2.a sport that involves endurance, stamina, and dedication. you have to want it to succeed and if you forget to go to conditioning, you will be hunt down. a gymnast has to have nearperfect balance, grace, strength, and endurance and can never forget to wear their helmet.

{girls bas·ket·ball}

l.a game played by two teams of usually five players each on a rectangular court having a raised basket or goal at each end, points being scored by tossing the ball through the opponent's basket. players may move the ball by dribbling or passing with the hands.

2. four quarters of determination, 2 halves of unknown strengths, and 32 minutes to give all you've got for your team. a sport where bloody knees are a given, black eyes take over one's face, and a bruise is just another memory of an intense game. a sport where you give your heart to the court, where endurance and intensity can keep you going for hours, the score can change in the last .1 second, and the accomplishment of winning is better than any other feeling. { Lindsey Morrison}

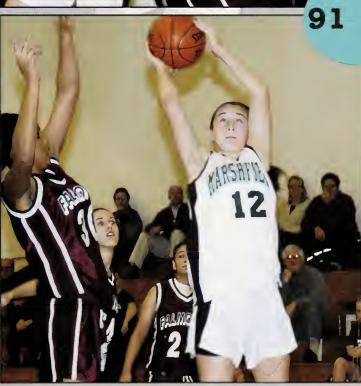

{boys bas·ket·ball}

naan

1. a game played between two teams of five players each, the object being to throw a ball through an elevated basket on the opponent's side of a rectangular court. players may move the ball by dribbling or passing with the hands.

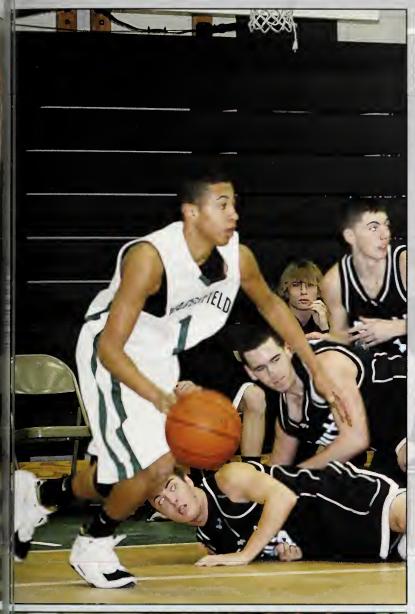

2. ten hands are needed to make a basket, and intensity is crucial. every person on the floor has a job to do and trust is the key. if you can't trust your teammates the game breaks down. while only one person can get the credit for the points, he needs everyone to help him get there. {phil whittaker}

{golf}

noun

1. A game in which clubs are used to hit a small, white ball into 9 or 18 holes of various distance over a course having natural or artificial obstacles, the object being to get the ball into each hole in as few strokes as possible.

2. A sport where you can be a professional athlete who can bench press 300lbs and do 100 sit-ups and not be a golfer. A sport where power is not needed, but skill and practice are. Manages to be the most infuriating game you'll ever play, and a joy to behold all in the course of one round. {chris barry}

Dear Class of 2009,

Twenty years from now when I look back at our high school years together, I will remember the faces of our classmates that filled our halls everyday. The unity we share has inspired pride that will never be forgotten at MHS. Over the past four years, we have laughed together, cried together, and persevered together. Our journey through high school is now coming to a close.

Way back when we were freshmen, everything was new and exciting. Deck the Halls was our first task and we had great class participation. We came in second place; our hopes were high for the years to come. In the spring, we had Freshman Fun Night. With almost everyone in the class attending, we had a blast.

Sophomore year came and we tackled pride week with a little more confidence than the previous year. Impressively, we won Pride Week and took home the Pride Cup! Later that year, we hosted the Sophomore Fashion Show and had over eighty models from our grade participate. From scuba gear to formal wear, everyone looked like a star.

During our Junior year, we kept our spirits high and continued to leave our mark on MHS. That year our main event was prom. We spent our night Dancing in the Moonlight, and shared memories that will never be forgotten.

Now we are finally seniors. Together we climbed Blue Hills for Meeting on the Mountain, and together we have reached the end of high school. After three years of not scoring a single point in our history of powder-puff, our team shut out all the competition and won the Powder Puff Trophy. Next came Deck the Halls, and we came in first place! After winning the Class Officer Dance-Off, we took home the Pride Cup once again. The pride and dedication of our class has made us incredibly successful these past four years. I want to thank Ms. Pelkowski and my fellow class officers for making our high school years unbelievably amazing. And I want to thank you, Class of 2009, for choosing me to be your class president. After graduation, when we go our separate ways I hope you find life filled with happiness and success! I will miss you all! Love,

Canice Ahearn
President of the Class of 2009

Dear Class of 2009,

Four years ago I sat in room 154 watching that years senior goodbye video thinking, Wow, before I know it, I will be watching my students goodbye video. I knew the past four years would fly by, but I never realized that I would blink my eyes and the four years would be over. Starting with our first Deck the Halls and Freshman Fun Night to our Senior Year Activities, and everything in between, I will cherish all of the wonderful memories you have created for me.

The Class of 2009 has been an inspirational class at MHS. Each of you has been a strong influence in and out of the classroom. Your school spirit amazes me, and even during moments of adversity, you have been able to rise above and prove how special and strong you are as a whole. Over the past four years I have seen you prove that the Class of 2009 is AWESOME. As a whole, each year you have embodied the schools theme. You have demonstrated that students can be the change, have integrity, and dare to soar each day.

Thank you for making me extremely proud to tell people that I am Marshfield's Class of 2009 Advisor. I am going to miss seeing your faces as you walk down the halls. Your spirit and enthusiasm have proven to me time and time again that I made the right decision to return to Marshfield High School as a teacher. Ten years ago I graduated from MHS, and as my class advisor, Mr. Battis, said to the Class of 1999, Goodbye and Good Luck to a Best Friend-The Class of 2009. May you know that because of your time spent at Marshfield High School, you have made this a much richer and better place. I wish each of you much success in all that you do; I look forward to reading, hearing, and seeing all of your wonderful achievements. Best of luck as you enter college, the armed forces, or the work field, and always remember to Shoot for the moon. Even if you miss, you'll land among the stars. ~Les Brown. I will miss you!

Love, Your Advisor, Ms. Pelkowski

Congratulations! We are so proud of you and all of your accomplishments. We love you!!

Colin and Jason

Thank you for your hard work and dedication to Marshfield Community Television.

The interns who follow have mighty big shoes to fill.

Best Wishes to the Class of 2009.

David Gomez

Dave,

Follow your heart. Love your dream. Take the shot! We are so very proud of you.

All our love, Dad, Mom, and Riss

We've watched you grow from binkys, bikes, bats & balls. Through all of the toys, boys and noise. There's no question, not even a maybe, now that you drive cars you are really making us crazy. Through Pudding Hill, South River, Furnace Brook and now MHS you have passed every test. In all of those school days, dance and sports galore, laughing and having fun all the way. FL, NY, NH & MA no matter where you've gone you left your mark. Making memories that'll be forever in our hearts. Always remember Ski school and how you "cousins" really made their day. Sleep-overs, gingerbread houses and Christmas Eve at each others houses. Together you have combed the beaches far and wide watching the tide rolling in. Now the MHS TIDE is here - wasn't it a great Senior year!

Congratulations On Your Academic Success
